Money is any object or record that is generally accepted as payment for goods and services and repayment of debts in a given country or socio-economic context. The main functions of money are distinguished as: a medium of exchange; a unit of account; a store of value; and, occasionally in the past, a standard of deferred payment. The money supply of a country consists of currency (banknotes and coins) and bank money (the balance held in checking accounts and savings accounts). Bank money usually forms by far the largest part of the money supply. One cannot begin to understand how money is created and how it works without a good understanding of the banking system, and the special role of the central bank. Banking in India originated in the last decades of the 18th century. The first banks were The General Bank of India, which started in 1786,
